CONFIDENCE DELIVERED.®

Tri-City Electric Co.
Since 1895

Experienced in safety.

At Tri-City Electric Co., our commitment to safety is a top priority and a team effort. Led by our in-house safety director, management takes direct responsibility for employee safety and the quality of our safety programs. Project managers and foremen are accountable for the jobs and the people they supervise. Employees take responsibility for their own safety and the safety of their fellow workers.

Tri-City Electric Co. is highly proactive about safety policies and procedures. Our initiatives include correcting potentially unsafe conditions and equipment, identifying and correcting unsafe or incorrect work habits, training all employees to work in a safe manner and pre-planning jobs to comply with safety standards. As a result, Tri-City Electric Co. has achieved exceptionally low insurance modification rates over the last decade – a cost savings we proudly pass along to customers.

At Tri-City Electric Co., following safety procedures is a condition of employment. We take a no-nonsense approach to safety. We are committed to an injury-free workplace.
