

Electrical Construction

Get innovation, value and quality in every job with Tri-City Electric Co.

You can look at all the specs, schematics and proposals in the world. However, the most important thing you need from your electrical contractor is the confidence they'll get the job done and done right. Since 1895, Tri-City Electric Co. has been getting the job done for our customers. And it's exactly what we will do for you.
