

FORGING TRUST THROUGH SAFETY, RELIABILITY AND QUALITY

FROM IDEATION TO INSTALLATION, WE'RE THERE FOR YOU

Our comprehensive approach

When we work together, it's a partnership. We have the capabilities to take your concept from day one to project completion, helping you with every step along the way. That means we have the ability to fabricate and deliver along with our installation and oversight of the project — making this a turnkey operation.

The Tri-City Ironworks difference

When it comes to our industry, trust is a big deal. Luckily, Tri-City Ironworks comes with a name many know and trust in the industry. Based in the Quad Cities as a Tri-City Electric Co. affiliate, Tri-City Ironworks was founded to complement the services offered by the Tri-City family of companies.

We're proud to deliver our clients the efficiency of working with another trusted Tri-City company and offer a one-source solution for contractors. Our customers find that this consolidation streamlines and simplifies the project process.

EXPERTISE BY THE TON

At Tri-City Ironworks, we pride ourselves on a job done right. Our team of experts work together to deliver the best and brightest solutions when it comes to the wide array of steel needs. From general contractors to industrial contractors, we have it covered.

When you work with us, you'll find that we put people first. That means we will work closely with you to get the project done right and on time, with safety as our highest priority. In fact, when you see our safety record, it will give you nerves of steel and confidence that your job will be performed safely and successfully for everyone involved.

Simply put, if you have a need for steel, we can help make your project a reality in the safest, most efficient approach available.

On budget. On time. On point.
